Gerhardt-Jespersen.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Spruce Grove, on Wednesday, April 15, when Miss Annie, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs J. Jespersen, became the bride of Alfred Gerhardt of Southey, Sask.

The Rev F. A. Mueller, performed the ceremony, and Miss Alma Jespersen, sister of the bride, played the Wedding March.

The bride looked charming in her gown of soft white satin trimmed with pearls. Her veil was held in place by a spray of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Sophie Gerhardt, the bridesmaid, was clad in maize satin erve and carried rose carnations.

The bridegroom was supported by Melvin Jespersen, a brother of the bride.

After the ceremony the guests, about seventy in number, partook of a sumptuous dinner from beautifully decorated tables.

The bride received many handsome gifts from friends and relatives. The happy couple left this week for Southey, where they will make their home.

Canada's Child Immigrants

The tide of immigration is again flowing Canada-wards and prospects are that the number of incoming settlers this year will be in excess of those for any year since the outbreak of the war. It is also fairly evident that much greater care is being taken in the selection of immigrants by officers of the Department of Immigration and Colonization overseas than was formerly the case, with the result that there is a fair chance of those actually arriving in this country making a success of their venture.

Better machinery for the placing of settlers from the British Isles and assisting them in making a real start has been created under the arrangements arrived at between the Canadian and British Governments through the medium of the Overseas Settlement Committee. There is reasonable hope, therefore, that while there may be an increase in numbers, there will be a still more striking improvement in the quality of our new settlers and in the probabilities of their success in Canada.

Especially satisfactory is the increased interest being taken both in Great Britain and in Canada in the subject of child migration and settlement in this Dominion. Last year a delegation was appointed by the British Government, on the request of the Canadian Government, to visit Canada and obtain first-hand information on this very important aspect of immigration, which delegation has made an instructive and constructive report. At the same time the Committee of the Social Service Council of Canada on Immigration and Colonization concentrated its attention last year upon the question of child and juvenile immigration, and it, too, has made a comprehensive report on the subject.

Unquestionably there is much to be said both for and against child immigration, although it is probably much easier to advance objections than it is to cite cogent reasons in support of such immigration, but the conclusions reached by both the investigating bodies above referred to appear to favor such immigration within reasonable limits, providing necessary care is taken in the matter of selection of these young immigrants, and proper supervision undertaken after their arrival in Canada, first in the matter of placement in foster homes or as apprentices, and later that they are protected and assisted until well established in Canada.

In support of child immigration there is the definite conclusion of the British delegation that the prospects for these boys and girls in Canada are better than they would have been had they remained in the United Kingdom. There is the further fact that Canada needs population, and that it is the desire of most Canadians that a preponderant number of immigrants should be of British birth. Then there is the argument that these children will more easily become adapted to Canadian ways and more readily absorbed into the life of the community than would be the case with those more advanced in years.

On the other hand it is urged that as many of these children are "Poor Law Children" who have become charges of Boards of Guardians through poverty or other failure of the home, or who have been committed to industrial schools, or are orphans or "under-privileged" children whose homes are unsatisfactory for one cause or another, they constitute a real menace to Canada as future citizens and the parents of Canadian-born children.

The responsibility for final approval of children to be emigrated to Canada rests, however, with the Canadian Government officials in England who have it in their power to reject any child recommended for emigration. It follows, therefore, that if proper inspection and examination takes place and close inquiry made into the antecedents of each child, much of the danger to be apprehended from the above causes can be avoided.

Both the British and Canadian investigating bodies are unanimous in recommending against the immigration of very young children and they are agreed that only boys and girls who have reached the school-leaving age should be allowed to emigrate, except, of course, those who are accompanying their parents.

It is likewise the opinion of the Canadian investigating committee that after these children reach the age of eighteen, and are then discharged from their apprenticeship, it is still necessary that some plan of supervision, protection and helpful assistance be provided by the Department of Immigration if they are not to fall by the wayside instead of becoming happy and successful citizens, an asset rather than a liability to the Dominion.

Real Enterprises Will Have Plenty of Investors

English visitors are sensible people and are unlikely to visit upon genuine Canadian enterprises their legitimate grievances in connection with Grand Trunk matters.

This is the remark of the Financial Times, in connection with statements regarding Canadian mines, made by Dr. McIntosh Bell, just before his departure for Canada, which have been largely used in the British financial press. Bell and his colleagues have an enviable reputation for energetic development by straight and fair financial methods.

In the course of an interview Dr. Bell gave a satisfactory account of the Keeley and Vipond developments in Ontario. He denied that Vipond had been "acquiring neighboring property."

BLEMISHES OF THE SKIN

Are Proof the Blood is in a Weak and Watery Condition

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order are the pimples and unsightly eruptions that break out on the face or body. The same condition is indicated by an attack of eczema or scurf. You cannot get rid of these troubles by the use of purgative medicines, as so many people try to do. Pimples merely gallop through the system and leave it still weaker. What is needed when the blood is out of order is a tonic which will restore its missing elements and leave the blood rich and red. For this purpose there is no other tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, every dose of which helps to the blood drives out impurities, and brings a new feeling of health and energy. Mrs. R. E. Bishop, Hawthorne, Ave., Hamilton, Ont., tells for the benefit of others what these pills did for her. "She says:—'I was suffering terribly from Scrofula. I was doctored with several doctors, but without success. My complexion was sallow, I had no strength, feeling very weak and languid. My neck was full of lumps called scrofula, and at times they were very painful. After trying several so-called blood medicines, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me and I took half a dozen bottles. After taking them I found a decided improvement in my appearance, and to my joy the lumps were disappearing from my neck. I persevered in the treatment, and finally the only sign left of the trouble was a scar on my neck where one of the swellings broke. Since that time I have been in robust health and heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any suffering from impure blood. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.'

British Families Welcomed

Women in Different Communities Had Houses in Order

The 19 British families, which arrived in Halifax, March 29, have been received in the various communities in which they have settled, with genuine cordiality, according to reports being made to Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of Immigration. Officers of the land settlement branch of the department have directed the new arrivals to their homes, and in each community women of the neighborhood have set the houses in order, and in some cases even supplied the larder with immediate necessities.

Field Marshal Haig's Visit

Proposal is Made to Change Date of Arrival at Ottawa

A change in the date of the visit to Canada of Field Marshal Haig is proposed in a cablegram received by the Dominion command, G.W.V.A., from the London headquarters of the British Empire Service League. With the previous arrangements it was found that the governor-general, Lord Byng, could not be at Ottawa for the official welcome so it is now proposed to advance the date of Haig's arrival to Sunday, June 28, instead of July 19, so that His Excellency may be present.

Under the new arrangement, the conference of the British Empire Service League will open in Ottawa on June 29, continuing for three days, after which the field marshal had Countess Haig, their daughter, Lady Alexandria, and party will make a brief tour of Canada, going west to Winnipeg.

London Living Space Crowded

Compressed Furniture and Bunks Installed in Newest Flats

The "need" for living space in London is so acute that bunks, one above the other similar to those aboard ships which fold up out of sight when not in use, have been installed in some of the newest flats in the crowded City of London, where inches have to be taken into consideration whenever any building is being done.

Another innovation in the compressed furniture line is a "six-in-one" contrivance which includes a folding bed, washstand, chest of drawers, mirror, shoe rack, and space to place the bedding when the bed is not made up.

A Free Lance Investigator Is Warm In His Praise Of Conditions In Canada

After nine months' travel and observation in both the urban and rural areas of Canada, S. Frank Messner, of the South African Irrigation Association, Johannesburg, is "perfectly satisfied of the possibilities Canada has to offer the right type of settler."

In a recent letter to Hon. James A. Robb, minister of immigration and colonization, Mr. Messner wrote the following unsolicited testimonials:

"I have the honor to advise you that I have just completed an agricultural tour of Canada from Quebec to Victoria, B.C., from June, 1924, to March, 1925.

"Landing as an ordinary immigrant in Quebec, I have made a detailed study of agricultural conditions in the provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Winnipeg, South Saskatchewan, Calgary, Vancouver, Okanagan, Fraser Valley and Victoria, B.C. My investigations have been entirely those of a 'free lance,' but with the backing of agricultural experience in Scotland, Africa and Australia.

"I may say I landed in Quebec, coldly critical of a country of whose colonization schemes I had heard such varied criticism, and after nine months strenuous work in urban and rural areas, entirely on my own initiative, I conclude my tour warmly enthusiastic, and perfectly satisfied of the possibilities Canada has to offer the right type of settler.

"As a free lance investigator, I am prompted to write these few words, not by the large amount of adverse criticism of your country which has appeared in the Old Country press. I may say that criticism of Canada, after a tour of Canada in C.P.R. tourist train, is futile in the extreme; nothing would have given me greater pleasure than to have refuted the criticism on a public platform, of the pseudo-colonialists of the English press. In closing I should like to pay a tribute to the efficiency of your rank and file in the colonization department."

Selected Immigrants

Regulations For Settlement of 3,000 Immigrants Under Empire Settlement Act

Regulations for the settlement of the three thousand selected immigrants who are being brought to Canada under the Empire Settlement Act have been made public. They provide for the setting aside of land for the new settlers, the allocation of the lands to the immigrants at a price to be fixed by the minister of agriculture, and the appointment of an advisory settlement committee for the district in which the farms are situated; and that all buildings on land for soldier settlers shall be placed in good repair in order to leave the farms ready for immediate occupation.

The regulations set forth that the total advances of all descriptions to any immigrant, including the value of the land and the British advances, shall not exceed $7,500 in the case of any one settler. The advances to be made are to be paid in 25 equal annual payments, and the first instalment is due twelve months after the October following the date of his taking the land. The rate of interest charged shall not exceed five per cent.

Generous support and encouragement will be given farmers in the Brandon district who will undertake to grow sugar beets in an experiment all year during the coming season. The Brandon board of trade and horticultural society and, in fact, every other organization, will do all that is possible in this direction. The prospect of the establishment of a sugar beet factory in Manitoba was proven a great impetus to residents who are desirous of promoting the industrial and commercial prosperity of the province. Q. What is the remedy?

A. A Real Senate Reform.

Q. What is real senate reform?

A. The replacement of the present Senate by one in which every province, large or small, is represented on the floor of the Senate, by the same number of senators, probably not more than six for each province.

Q. Is that a new idea?

A. No. It has been the basis of representation in the Senate of the United States since 1789.

Q. How is the Senate constituted?

A. Twenty-four senators represent Ontario; twenty-four, Quebec; ten, New Brunswick; ten, Nova Scotia; four, Prince Edward Island; and six, each of the four provinces of the western half of Canada; ninety-six in all. 3,000,000 Canadians have the number of federal senators as 113,000,000 Americans.

Q. How are they selected?

A. By the Government of Canada as a reward for partisan service; not by the people, as they purport to represent. Furthermore, appointees must be acceptable to members of the governing "party" of Ontario and Quebec. They are appointed for life, but may resign or forfeit their seats.

Q. What purpose was the Senate intended to serve?

A. To protect the weaker provinces; (2) by preventing hasty legislation, to temper national action with local caution.

Q. Has the Senate served these purposes?

A. It has utterly failed to protect the weaker provinces; (2) it has tempered national action with partisan caution.

Q. Why has the Senate failed to protect the weaker provinces?

A. It is controlled by the two major provinces, Ontario and Quebec, by the method of appointment, and by their excessive representation.

Q. Does the excessive Senate representation of Ontario and Quebec serve any other legitimate public purpose?

A. No. It is useless for any other purpose than that of domination.

Q. How does control of the Senate make domination of Canada by Ontario and Quebec possible?

A. They also control the House of Commons because of their preponderant vote.

Q. What effect has this power to dominate Canada had on the people of Ontario and Quebec?

A. It has made them both conscious of and subconscious think of Canada in terms of Ontario and Quebec. It has prevented their respecting the wishes of other provinces. It has made them apparently more or less incapable of taking an ocean-to-ocean view of Canadian affairs.

Corn Has Taken Its Place Definitely As An Established Fodder Crop In The West

Some considerable surplus was expressed when at the 1924 International Hay and Grain Show at Chicago, in Session No. 1, which included all the Northern States and Canada, the Dominion secured, through growers from the province of Ontario, the sweetest stalks for ten ears of White Dent Corn, and in all twelve out of fourteen stalks, the first eleven and fourteenth. It was a new indication of the possibilities of Canada in corn production and effective refutation of the assertion made years ago that the limit of the corn belt stopped far short of the international border.

Similarly, Western Canada has been making marked progress in the production of fodder corn. This has, in fact, been the outstanding feature of the agricultural progress in the past few years, having an intimate connection with the remarkable progress achieved in butter production and the dairy industry generally. Corn has taken its place definitely as an established fodder crop in Western Canada, and every year goes further to confirm this.

In the year 1924, according to the preliminary return of the Federal Government, the three prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta had a total of 215,303 acres of corn growing, this being divided respectively 60,716 acres, 77,115 acres and 67,472 acres. The average production per acre was 5.73 tons in Manitoba, 1.18 tons in Saskatchewan and 2.32 tons in Alberta. The respective totals were 345,000 tons, 227,000 tons and 197,000 tons, making an aggregate of 769,000 tons. Sold at figures of $6.00, $4.00 and $5.00 per ton, the aggregate value of the corn crop of the prairie provinces is estimated to have been $4,163,000.

These figures well illustrate the growing interest in corn production in Western Canada, and the adaptability of that area to the crop. Compared with 1923 figures there is an increase of 45 per cent in the acreage under corn, though owing to smaller average yields in 1924 there was a decline in total production of about 10 per cent. Higher prices prevailing, however, brought the value up some 21 per cent. Since the year 1915 the corn acreage of the prairie provinces has increased by some 2,017 per cent, and the production by some 1,150 per cent.

Fodder corn shows a constantly high yield in the prairie provinces. The yield averages for the past five-year period, 1917 to 1921, were: Manitoba, 2.2 tons; Saskatchewan, 6.85 tons; and Alberta, 5.79 tons. Average production per acre, as indicated in the year in which the last U.S. census was taken, in Minnesota was 2.2 tons; in Iowa, 2.4 tons; in North Dakota, 2.2 tons; in South Dakota, 6.85 tons; in Nebraska, 1.6 tons; in Montana, 5 tons; and in Wisconsin, 1.1 tons.

An Era of Development

Forecast Great Expansion of Industry in Next 20 Years

"I believe the next twenty years will see the greatest expansion and the greatest accomplishment American industry has ever known," said Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, in a speech before the annual meeting of the New York building congress.

Co-operation between competitors in industry and Democratic relations between employer and working men were points on which the speaker dwelt. He urged himself that in his long career, in which he had handled hundreds of thousands of working men he had never had a strike.

A Romance of the Spanish Main

CAPTAIN BLOOD

RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyright, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini.
 "CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Visagraph picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS

Captain Peter Blood, buccanner, in command of his ship, the Arabella, named after Arabella Bishop, with whom he is in love, engages two Spanish ships in battle and over-whelms them. After the fight he rescues Arabella and Lord Waine, an emissary sent to the West Indies by King James to make peace with piracy, and makes them his guests. The sight of Arabella stirs all his love for her, but he fears his career as a pirate has blasted all hopes of winning her love.

CHAPTER XVII.—Continued

His lordship decided to seek additional information from Miss Bishop. For this he must wait until Pitt and Wolverstone should have withdrawn. He was hardly made to wait so long, for as Pitt rose from the table to follow Wolverstone, who had already departed, Miss Bishop detained him with a question:

"Mr. Pitt," she asked, "were you not one of those who escaped from Barbadoes with Captain Blood?"

"I was. I too, was one of your uncle's slaves."

"Did you ever sail with a Frenchman named Cahusac?"

"Cahusac?" Pitt laughed. The name evoked a ridiculous memory. "Aye. He was with us at Maracaybo."

"And another Frenchman named Levasseur?"

"Aye. Cahusac was Devasseur's lieutenant, until he died."

"Until he died?"

"Levasseur. He was killed on one of the Virgin Islands two years ago."

"Who killed him?"

"Captain Blood killed him."

"Why?"

"They quarreled," he said shortly.

"Was it about a . . . a lady?"

Miss Bishop relentlessly pursued him. "You might tell me that."

"What was the lady's name?"

"Miss d'Ogeron. She was the daughter of the Governor of Tortuga. She had gone off with this fellow Levasseur, and . . . and Peter delivered her out of his treacherous clutches. He was a black-hearted scoundrel, and deserved what Peter gave him."

"I see. And . . . and yet Captain Blood has not married her?"

"Not yet," laughed Pitt, who knew the utter groundlessness of the common gossip in Tortuga which pronounced Miss d'Ogeron the Captain's future wife. He paused in the doorway to impart a piece of information.

"Maybe it'll comfort you to know that the Captain has altered his course for your benefit. It's his intention to put you both ashore on the coast of Jamaica, as near Fort Royal as we dare venture. We've gone about, and if this wind holds ye'll soon be home again, mistress."

He went out, leaving his lordship pensive, those dreamy blue eyes of his intently studying Miss Bishop's face for all their dreaminess; his mind increasingly uneasy.

"He amazes me, this man," said he in his slow, languid voice that never seemed to change its level. "That he should alter his course for us is in itself matter for wonder; but that he should take a risk on our behalf—that he should venture into Jamaica waters . . ."

"It amazes me, as I have said."

"What is still more amazing is that he does not hold us to ransom," said she at last.

"It's what you deserve."

"Oh, and why, if you please?"

"For speaking to him as you did."

"I usually call things by their names."

"Do you? Stab me! I shouldn't boast of it. It argues either extreme youth or extreme foolishness. So does the display of ingratitude."

A faint colour stirred in her cheeks. "It is news to me that ingratitude is a fault only to be found in the young and the foolish."

"You're my guest aboard this ship," said Captain Blood, "and I still have some notion of decent behavior left me from other days. 'Tilber and pirate though I may be, I'll not be telling you what I think of you for daring to bring me this offer, or of my Lord Sunderland—since he's your kinsman—for having the impudence to send it. But it does not surprise me at all that one who is a mirror of James Stuart's should conceive that every man is to be seduced by bribes into betraying those who trust him."

"I see. And—and yet Captain Blood has not married her?"

"You are probably aware that he delivered us," said he. "And living as you have done in these savage places of the world, you can hardly fail to be aware of what is known even in England: that this fellow Blood strictly confines himself to making war upon the Spaniards. As to that call him thief and pirate as you did to make over the case against him at a time when it would have been more prudent to have underrated it."

"Prudence?" Her voice was scornful.

"What have I to do with prudence?"

"Nothing—as I perceive. But, at least, study gravity. I tell you frankly, my dear, that in Blood's place I should never have been so nice. Sink me! To be told into slavery! 'Tilber! His lordship shuddered. "And to a damned colonial planter!" He checked abruptly. "I beg your pardon, Miss Bishop. For the moment . . ."

"You were carried away by your heat in defence of this . . . sea robber?"

"Miss Bishop's scorn was almost fierce."

His lordship stared at her again. Then he half-closed his large, pale eyes, and tilted his head a little. "I wonder why you hate him so," he said softly.

He saw the sudden electric flame upon her cheeks, the heavy frown that descended upon her brow, but there was no explosion.

"Hate him? Lord! What a thought! I don't regard the fellow at all."

"Then you should, my dear. His lordship spoke this thought frankly."

"He's worth regarding. He'd be an acquisition to the King's navy. A great man, Miss Bishop. A man worth regarding."

Miss Bishop was moved to sarcasm. "You should use your influence with my Lord Sunderland to have the King offer him a commission."

His lordship laughed softly. "Faith, it's done already. I have his commission in my pocket." And he increased her amazement by a brief exposition of the circumstances. In that engagement he left her, and went in quest of Blood.

He found the Captain pacing the quarter-deck. With the amiable familiarity he used, Lord Julian slipped an arm through one of the Captain's and fell into step beside him.

"What's this?" snapped Blood.

"I desire, sir, that we be friends."

"That's mighty condescending of you."

Lord Julian ignored the obvious sarcasm.

"It's an odd coincidence that we should have been brought together in this fashion, considering that I came out to the Indies especially to seek you."

And he proceeded to explain himself and his mission.

"You're my guest aboard this ship," said Captain Blood, "and I still have some notion of decent behavior left me from other days. 'Tilber and pirate though I may be, I'll not be telling you what I think of you for daring to bring me this offer, or of my Lord Sunderland—since he's your kinsman—for having the impudence to send it. But it does not surprise me at all that one who is a mirror of James Stuart's should conceive that every man is to be seduced by bribes into betraying those who trust him."

MADE HER BABY PLUMP AND WELL

Nothing makes a mother more grateful than a benefit conferred upon her child. Mothers everywhere who have used Baby's Own Tablets for their children speak in enthusiastic terms of them. For instance, Mrs. Zepheria, Leaville, Three Rivers, Que., writes:

"Baby's Own Tablets are a wonderful medicine for little ones. They never fail to regulate the baby's stomach and bowels, and make him plump and well. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all mothers to do likewise. Most of the ordinary ailments of childhood arise in the stomach and bowels, and can be quickly banished by Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets relieve constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, allay teething pains and promote healthful sleep. They are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs and are safe even for the youngest and most delicate child. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from 'The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.'"

Promise Price Fine Time In South Africa

Nothing Too Good For Hair to British Throne

Predicting that the Prince would have a glorious time in South Africa, J. S. Smith, the new high commissioner, said it was for the Prince to decide whether he wanted to drive a team of 16 oxen or whether he wanted to assume charge of anything else his heart could desire within South Africa.

The Dutch farmers of Cape Colony, Smith said, were vying with one another to provide the British heir with suitable horses for his use during the visit. Or, if the Prince cared to shoot lions, South Africa would provide plenty of them, or plenty of most anything in the wild animal line. If the Prince desired more feathers for his coat of arms, Commissioner Smith assured him South Africans could show their royal guests the best of their ostriches and invite him to select the choicest of their plumes.

Pet Lions Put In Zoo

Animal Belonging to General Smuts Was Becoming Troublesome

General Smuts' lioness Sally, who is now twelve months old and well on the way to adolescence, has been condemned to the solitary confinement of a zoo cage at Pretoria.

Sally used to roam freely over General Smuts' farm, following the general like a faithful dog, but startling his guests considerably.

Recently sheep, game and poultry had been disappearing mysteriously, but Sally always seemed to be in the neighborhood. Her diminished appetite for her customary food, however, combined with her rapid growth, placed her under suspicion, and she was removed to the zoo.

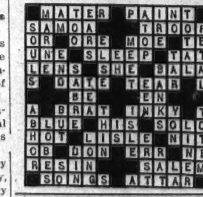

Arsenal 50,000 Years Old

Archaeologists are investigating the accidental discovery near Rochester, Eng., of what seems to be a pre-historic factory for tools and weapons. Some 40,000 stone implements have been unearthed and the experts are of the opinion that about 50,000 years ago the place was a considerable arsenal, as things went then.

The ones who look down on the world from a great height are aviators, intellectuals and kids of sixteen.

CAN NOT SLEEP NIGHTS

Pains and Headaches Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dublin, Ontario.—"I was weak and irregular, with pains and headaches, and could not sleep nights. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by reading the letters in the newspapers and tried it because I wanted to get better. I have got good results from it as I feel a lot stronger and am not troubled with such bad headaches as I used to be and am more regular. I am writing to let my friends know the kind of medicine I'm taking. You may use my letter as a help to others."

Mrs. JAMES RACHO, Box 12, Dublin, Ontario.

FURTHER PROBE INTO ALLEGED FRUIT COMBINE

Ottawa.—Correspondence with provincial governments, growers' associations, and private growers was tabled in the house in connection with the Duncan investigation into an alleged fruit marketing combine in Canada. The correspondence comprises all the documents which the department of labor fees in revealing at this time, Hon. J. James Murdoch explained.

The file shows that a special memo prepared by the register of the Combines Investigation Act has been sent to all the western provincial governments for their assistance as to the extent to which they may proceed against members of the alleged combine.

Only formal acknowledgments have been received so far from the provinces, except that the British Columbia, through Hon. A. M. Manson, indicates that he has placed the matter for investigation in the hands of officers of his department.

Steamer Damaged By Fire

C.P.R. Liner Was Being Repaired At Birkenhead Dock
Liverpool.—The three-masted furnishing of the Canadian Pacific steamer Montclair has been completely destroyed by fire. It was estimated that the damage would reach nearly $250,000. One fireman was overcome by gas fumes from the blaze. The steamer had just completed repairs at a dock at Birkenhead, across the Mersey, opposite Liverpool.

Dense clouds of smoke hampered the fire fighters. From the decks of the steamer, men, at a neighboring dock, the firemen poured great streams of water on the white hold plates of the burning liner, but they made little impression. The cabins and gangways were choked with debris, while smoke and gas-filled passages were preventing entry of men with fire fighting appliances. The cause of the fire, which started in the third-class accommodations, was unknown.

Attack On Bulgarian King

Bullets Fired at Royal Car Kill One Passenger

Sofia, Bulgaria.—Considerable mystery surrounds the firing of bullets at the automobile of King Boris as the monarch was proceeding in the direction of the capital from a provincial town. The king had a narrow escape, one bullet grazing his neck, another carrying some of the hair with it. M. Itcheff, director of the Sofia museum, a passenger in the royal car, was killed, as well as a servant, and the chauffeur was wounded.

"Usually at the same time the shots were fired at the monarch, General Chergheff, one of the leaders of the movement which brought about the overthrow of the Stamboulsky Government in 1923, was killed by assassins in a street of the capital.

Want Hindenburg To Quit

Germany Does Not Want Him For President In Report

London.—Strenuous efforts are being made behind the scenes in Germany to persuade former Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to renounce his candidacy for the German presidency, the Daily Telegraph has learned. "Patriotic grounds of expediency to depel the distrust which the mere mention of Hindenburg's candidacy aroused in allied countries, are being urged upon the German world war hero," the newspaper says.

Return To Power Of Cailiaux Is Sensation

Paris.—Joseph Cailiaux's acceptance of the post of minister of finance in the cabinet now being formed by Paul Painlevé, overshadowed all other recent developments in France's political crisis. The return to power, at the head of one of the most important ministries, by the man who five years ago was regarded as politically dead for all time, has caused varied, but strong, emotions in the French political world.

Ontario Wants Western Coal

Good Market If Satisfactory Freight Rates Are Established

Toronto.—Howard Stutchbury, fuel commissioner for Alberta, who has been visiting this province in connection with the proposed introduction of Alberta coal to Ontario, stated that, through the co-operation of the Federal Government and the Canadian National Railway, shipments of the western fuel would be made to the east, and a careful check taken, which would definitely establish the out-of-pocket operating cost of the shipping of the coal during the summer period. The government had not asked $50.00 to guarantee the railway, the difference, if any, between the $7 rate asked and the actual operating cost.

Mr. Stutchbury added that there was a general demand in Ontario for Alberta coal and that the campaign conducted by Ontario municipalities, added to the appreciation of its quality by those who were able to obtain it, and assured the province of Alberta of an excellent market if satisfactory freight rates could be established.

Sir William refused to discuss the details of his negotiations with the Canadian Government.

Inexperienced Surgeons

Serious Operations Performed By Novices Are Decried

Ottawa.—The surgical knife in the hands of a practitioner without sufficient surgical experience was deplored by Hon. Dr. H. J. Manion, M.P., Fort William, in an address to the Association of Officers of the Medical Services of Canada, at the retiring president's luncheon here. There should be a greater division between purely medical practice and surgery, Dr. Manion declared.

He declared that nowadays a young man can graduate with the letters M.D. after his name, and without proper post-graduate experience, set his hand to the most difficult and dangerous operations. "This is nothing short of criminal," said the speaker. "I think that no young practitioner should be allowed to perform operations of any serious character unless he has had adequate surgical experience, some years. To a big hospital, or other practical experience."

Dr. Manion declared he had been present—poorly to protest—when incompetent surgeons had performed operations.

London.—Another slight change in the programme of the Prince of Wales is reported by the Lagos correspondent of Reuters, who says that, while travelling in Nigeria, the party will avoid Oyo, 120 miles northeast of Lagos, owing to an outbreak of smallpox. "A durbar" or reception to native princes was to have been held April 20 at Oyo.

The Prince has expressed disappointment, but has deferred to the decision of the local medical authorities.

ANTI ASIATIC QUESTION GIVEN SOME ATTENTION

Ottawa.—British Columbia's request for an anti-Asiatic immigration law in Canada is still under consideration in Ottawa. In answer to questions by W. G. McQuarrie, of New Westminster, it was stated that the resolution passed by the British Columbia Legislature recommending the exclusion of Orientals, had been received and acknowledged, and was still under consideration.

"Does the government intend to take the action necessary to bring about the denunciation of all treaties which had the effect of depriving Canada of the power to regulate control, or prohibit Asiatic immigration?" Mr. McQuarrie asked.

A written answer to this question reads:

"The government's action with respect to such treaties, will be decided in the light of all international and other material considerations."

British Corporation Buying Alberta Land

Will Purchase 250,000 Acres in Edmonton District

London.—The prospectus of the British Dominions Land Settlement Corporation, recently circulated here, provides for an issue of £750,000 7 per cent. bonds. The initial operation of the corporation, of which the Duke of Sutherland is chairman, is the purchase of more than 250,000 acres in the Edmonton district, divided into 160-acre holdings.

The land was purchased from the Canada Land Company and was originally owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway. A. M. Brown, of Medicine Hat, former president of the Canadian Colonization Association, is the Canadian chairman of the corporation. Large groups of immigrants will be sent out from the British Isles. They will be given financial assistance with which to establish their new homes and the money will be repaid to the corporation in small yearly installments.

The board of directors includes Sir Newton Moore, Sir Arthur Griffiths-Boscawen, Sir Robert Lynn and Sir Edward Mandeville.

Spain Completes Trade Treaty With Canada

First Negotiation of Canadian Commissioner With Foreign Government

Madrid.—Following up the temporary trade agreement between Canada and Spain, which was signed a few days ago, the negotiations have been finally concluded here.

The Spanish Government places Canada in a position to renew her relations with Spain on a favorable basis, although Canada has not obtained the benefits accorded the British Government by the Anglo-Spanish treaty of 1922, to which Canada did not, or rather could not, adhere as her tariff placed her in a different position from England. The conclusion of the agreement affords the first instance of a Canadian trade commissioner negotiating with a foreign government.

Miners Reach Agreement

Crow's Nest Pass Mines to Resume

Coleman, Alta.—With the exception of the Hillcrest collieries, all the steam coal mines in the Crow's Nest Pass have now made an independent agreement with their employees, the last to do so being the McMillan Creek and International Companies here. It is stated that work at these two mines will begin shortly. As the Hillcrest mine is now the only one in the district that is idle, it is expected that an agreement will be reached between the employers and the men at an early date.

Bringing the West to the East

1—Empress Hotel, Victoria, with dome of House of Parliament on right; 2—Airplane view of Lake Louise and Chateau; 3—Crossing the Volunteer Pass in the Rockies; 4—Trail Riders in the Yoho Valley.

Not the smallest part of the education of a Canadian Teacher should be a knowledge of the Dominion, derived from personal contact with its vast areas. When in addition the West is brought home to the East by a tour covering most of the former's points of interest, commercial, agricultural and scenic, then a very valuable addition to one's knowledge of one's own country has been consummated.
This is the object of the 21-day tour of Canada which is now being arranged by the Canadian Teacher's Federation in repetition of their very successful similar trip last summer.
The party will leave Toronto westbound July 29 and will be back in that city August 10. It will be under the personal direction of Professor Sindelar Laird, Dean of the School for Teachers, MacDonald College, Quebec. The journey out and return will be over Canadian Pacific Railway lines, motors and boats and stop-over will be arranged at points of interest.
Starting from Toronto in the afternoon, the train passes through a land of beautiful lakes, the Muskoka region, reaching Sudbury and continuing through the big game district of Northern Ontario and skirting the shores of Lake Superior for many miles before arriving at Port Arthur and Fort William, the twin cities where most of the western grain is stored.
A day is spent in Winnipeg, the centre of the greatest grain marketing and inspection point in the Empire.
Half a day is spent in Regina and Moose Jaw is reached the same day.

Then on to Calgary where the last of the prairie country is covered and the foot hills of the Rockies commence.
Passing next day through the Gap, the gateway of the Rockies, where the roadway is hewn through the solid rock, Banff is reached on the first Saturday of the trip.
At this point the traveller enters fairlyland. Banff is the headquarters of the Rocky Mountains Park, a region of 2,701 square miles, covering rivers, lakes and mountain scenery of unsurpassed grandeur. The weekend is spent in this district. Driven and automobile trips here make a pleasant contrast with the train journey and the wonderful sights will live long in memory. There is Lake Louise, an exquisitely colored limpid mirror of glaciers and snow-crowned peaks and the brilliant blue of the sky with its arcoses of fleecy clouds. Mount Stephen, Chancellor and Sir Donald rise into view as the Great Divide is crossed and the marvelous Yoho Park is traversed.
Canyons, caves, valleys, deep gorges, passes twinkle past the train in its journey which is sometimes slowed up to admit of a more lasting impression.
The scenery is so perfect that to avoid missing any of it, some do not travel at night and continue its journey at dawn. For 250 miles it passes through the Great Canyons of the Thompson and Fraser Rivers and the long day of fifteen hours is one unbroken passage of delight. Vancouver is at last reached and a short but interesting boat trip is made across the straits of Georgia to Victoria with a panoramic

Chatham, Ont.—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did me a wonderful lot of good and to women who go down in health during motherhood I would advise its use. I was very sick, especially did I suffer from "morning sickness." My stomach was so upset that I could not retain anything. I was afraid to eat. I grew nervous and weak and my back ached. I just seemed to suffer with all the ills that come to prospective mothers. I saw Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advertised and began to take it and this medicine just kept me up fine, relieved the all suffering and distress, and I was able to be around right up to the last. I have the greatest faith in "Favorite Prescription." —Mrs. Margaret Phipps, 126 Inches Ave. All dealers.

More Beer Consumed

Fewer Breweries But More Beer In Canada Last Year
More beer and fewer breweries in Canada in 1924 is noted in the report of the department of customs for the fiscal year 1924. While the number of licensed breweries dropped from 66 to 64, the output of malt liquor last year was 14,080,490 gallons compared with 36,902,066 gallons in the previous year. Canada exported 189,992 gallons of last year's brew, leaving nearly five gallons per year per head of population for home consumption. In the same year Canadians consumed less than a quarter of a gallon of hard liquor per head, that is of liquor reported and taxed by the government.

Synthetic Wood Alcohol

Germans Make Motor Fuels From Water Gas
America's $100,000,000 wood alcohol distillation industry is threatened with extinction by German chemists, it was declared at the meeting of the American Chemical Society in Baltimore.

Germans are making synthetic methanol, formerly known as wood alcohol, from water gas, and are shipping it in such quantities, it was said, as to arouse fear that the American production of methanol from hard-wood will be wiped out.

Another "forward" step of German science was described by Dr. Fritz Fischer, director of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute at Wilhelm-Ruhr, who said that a process, closely related to that by which synthetic methanol is produced is being employed to manufacture liquid motor fuels from water gas.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 26

STEPHEN THE FIRST MARTYR

Golden Text: Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life.
Lesson: Acts 6:1 to 7:60.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 27:7-14.

The Text Explained and Illumined
The Arrest of Stephen. Acts 6:8-15. Jews from everywhere came on annual pilgrimages to the Holy City, and many of them stayed on there permanently. Those from certain regions were numerous enough to have their separate synagogues; among them were the Libertines, probably Jews—or their descendants—who had been taken to Italy by Pompey as slaves and had afterwards received their freedom and been allotted a section in Rome for their residence: Cyrenians and Alexandrians—Jews from Cyrene and Alexandria in Northern Africa; and Jews of Cilicia and Asia, provinces of Asia Minor. These Greek-speaking Jews hated Stephen, a man full of faith and the Holy Spirit (Acts 6:5), therefore full of grace and power, who wrought great wonders and signs among the people. They disputed with him but came off poorly in argument, for they were not much for the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke. Then they had recourse to calumny. They induced men to declare that they had heard Stephen speak blasphemous words against Moses and against God. Content of Moses was held to be contempt of God, and an attempt to turn people from devotion to God was punishable with death according to the Jewish law.

Red Cross Classes

The Red Cross class met on Thursday evening April 16, in the Town Hall, when the second lesson of the course was given by Mrs. S. C. Elliot.

The lesson took the form of an interesting and instructive lecture on "Important Signs of Sickness, and how to read them."

Following the talk, practical work was done by the members of the class.

The next lesson will be given this evening, the 23d, in the Town Hall at 8 p.m.

Farming Business in a Nutshell

An up-State farmer shipped 26 bushels of fresh peas to New York City. The commission merchant sent him a check in full—$2.74, says the Wall Street Journal.

An accompanying statement said the peas had sold for $13. Out of this came $7.14 freight $1.82 cartage and $1.30 for the commission man.

The farmer got the rest—$2.74. Unfortunately for him, he had paid $7.80 for getting the peas picked in his garden.

And that's the farming business in a nutshell. The peas by the way, landed in a grocer's hands for 50c a bushel. How much did he charge his customers?

In her talk, Mrs Short discussed Women's Institute work and the qualifications of a member, in a very pleasing manner.

Mrs Gates then gave a short outline of the coming convention, following which Mrs Jas. Smith gave a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs Outway.

Dainty refreshments were served, and the meeting closed with the singing of the "National Anthem."
